POLLS OPEN AT 9:00 A. M.

Selectmen's General Report

Financial

It has been possible this year to pay off the Town debt of $4,000.00. This was made possible in part by the receipt of a large payment on back taxes.

It is recommended that a capital reserve fund be established for Fire Equipment this year starting with an appropriation of $1,000.00.

Roads

The Oak Hill Road job was finished in the spring. This was done on recommendation of the State Engineer since further postponement would have necessitated graveling again before surfacing.

The Mason Road project was started but had to be stopped when the land owner involved withdrew his permission to use his land for the necessary widening and straightening. We recommend the adoption of the resolution in the Town Warrant to give the Selectmen the power to obtain the land under Eminent Domain proceedings if necessary to insure completion of the project this year.

Town Hall

Considerable plastering was done in the first floor hallways and stairways last summer. We have arranged with our janitor, Mr. Andrew Marshall, to paint the walls and ceilings in the sections that have been repaired and judging from present appearances we feel you will be pleased with the improved appearance of the inside of the building. It is recommended that a sum of money be raised again this year to further the repairs inside the building. It will be necessary in the near future to replace the water pump that supplies the building with water.

During the 1955 Season there were three cases of fires started by landowners without obtaining a permit. Two of these fires resulted in an expense to the landowners involved of $163.30 and the third case was taken to court, a conviction resulted and the responsible party was fined. The Law states that a person must have a permit before kindling an outside fire unless there is snow covering the ground. This law includes incinerators and outside fire-places.

PLEASE REMEMBER

Get a permit from the Forest Fire Warden before kindling a fire outdoors in your incinerator, fireplace, or brush pile.

The Department appreciates having the 2-way Radio. Since its installation we have been able to operate with greater efficiency.

In view of the increase in the number of calls made on this department in the past few years, it is felt that the interests of the inhabitants of the Town would be better served by having a Police Officer on duty every weekend and holiday from Memorial Day to Labor Day. The weekends of this summer period are the most demanding on any police department. This department is ready to put an officer on duty so that he may be reached by telephone or radio from 8 P. M. Saturday afternoon until 10 P. M. Sunday night during this busy season. The additional cost of this service would be $300.00. We hope you will want to take advantage of this added protection.

Respectfully submitted

Report of Planning Board

The Brookline Planning Board held four meetings during the year 1955-1956. At the request of a number of citizens efforts were concentrated on the subject of Trailer Parks. In addition, steps necessary for development of a long range Zoning Program were studied.

The results of these discussions are covered in two articles to be found in this year's Town Warrant. If the Town sees fit to appropriate the money for a Town Map, the Planning Board hopes to be able to go further ahead on discussions of Zoning in the coming year.

Administration

I herewith present my seventeenth Annual Report. Statistics printed on other pages are also a part of this report.

Instruction

There was one change in the teaching staff from the previous year. Mrs. Katherine Shea of Wilton, who had previously trained to teach but had never taught, was employed to succeed Miss Treganza in Grade I. Mrs. Shea took a refresher course last Summer before beginning her service here.

I also wish to call your attention to the most successful workshop which has been conducted in this Union. For two days and an evening, the teachers of this area participated in a conference on "Current Events for Teachers," a program which they themselves planned and executed. Principal Rockwell and Mr. DeLacey acted as co-chairmen and the success of the sessions is a tribute to their tireless efforts. As you may know, we had able Consultants from various colleges and other institutions to lead the discussions. A Bulletin, giving the recorders' notes, has been published and distributed. This whole subject was a sort of a "pilot" project for the State — it being unique from all the others previously attempted. You can see that I am proud of the staff and feel that the carry-over to everyday teaching will last for a long time to come.

Costs

A new law, enacted by the last General Court, prescribes the maximum liability of a school district not maintaining a high school as the average per pupil cost of all the high schools in the State or the average cost of the receiving school, whichever is less. Another provision empowers the State Board of Education to estimate these costs on the basis of the previous year's costs.

Since those costs for 1956-57 cannot thus be determined accurately until after June 30, 1956, we do not know what these costs may be but the State office freely predicts that the state high school cost will be $330 and the elementary $215 per pupil. I hear predictions from many sources that the rising trend will prevail for quite a while yet.

Another new law provides for approximately 20% state aid for building construction. There is no aid on interest payments, just on the Principal.

You will note also that state aid dropped considerably from previous estimates at the last session, a change in the formula for state aid distribution was developed which resulted in a drop to you.

Deeds

I am pleased to note the improvements made in the appearance of your rooms. For a number of years I have advised re-decorating year by year. That you are now doing this gives me inspiration as I feel it must to the pupils. Likewise, the improved condition of the Daniels Academy hallway is very pleasing.

To Come

An oil burner at the Primary School would make for more even heat and lighten the janitorial load.

On January 21, 1950, I wrote a little article for the Town Report entitled, "Stork and School Board." In it, I tried to point out that Grades 1-6 would have approximately 75, 79, 75, 84, 89 and 93 in the six years from that date. Actually, there were 90, 90, 90, 92, 102, 114 different pupils enrolled in those same years. The prediction totalled 495 children whereas the total number of different pupils was 578. All of the latter children were not present all the time. I was then advocating three teachers instead of two. That was accomplished and later another room and another teacher was added. Now the growth is anticipated which would require an additional room or two and the teachers to go with them. In 1949-50, you had approximately 45 pupils per teacher; in 1950-51, 30 pupils; in 1953-54, 25 plus pupils. Up to this date this year, 125 pupils have been enrolled or 31 pupils per teacher.

Closing

“Good teachers do not just happen. They are the product of the highest personal motivation, encouraged and helped in their work by adequate salaries and the respect, support, goodwill of their neighbors. The quality of American teachers has never been better. But the rewards of too many teachers are not commensurate with their work and their role in American life. It is my earnest hope that, along with progress in other aspects of education, the states and communities will give increasing attention to this taproot of all education — good teachers, and hence good teaching.” This is a quotation from none other than President Eisenhower.

Good schools just don't happen. They require planning, hard work and adequate finances. Expenditure still is a good criterion of what kind of school you have.

I am very thankful for the efforts of all my associates including Miss Connolly, the Teachers, the School Board. My contacts with the Community have been very rewarding.

Very respectfully,

HAROLD C. BOWLEY

Superintendent of Schools

Our Helping Teacher

By Mabel I. Connolly

Purpose — to Help

The purpose, as previously reported, which underlies the work of the Helping Teacher continues to be the same — to help. Areas where help is needed remain basically the same but vary from time to time in the amount required. Help is available, but to be effective the teachers should desire it. Whenever they seek to improve their methods of instruction or acquire ideas or materials which will aid them in doing a better job then the Helping Teacher attempts to provide such help.

It is through classroom visitations that most needs become apparent and assistance is requested. How is help given? Mostly through individual conferences which follow the classroom visits, through group conferences and participation in teachers meetings, and sometimes through demonstration teaching. It is hoped that material contained in the monthly Helping Teacher's Bulletin also contributes. This includes such items of interest to the teachers in this union as results of surveys, sharing teaching techniques, reviews of professional books and magazine articles, and sources of help. A handbook has been made available to teachers of the first grade. Its purpose is to present a coordinated program and state the general aims and goals of the grade. It should prove helpful to all, but especially those who are beginning.

Often the help that is requested concerns the child directly and has to do with his adjustment and the school program. This may involve giving the child one or more tests to better understand his needs and having conferences with his parents, teachers and others.

Scope of Program

Many phases of the Helping Teachers' program have been described in previous reports. The most important might be listed as follows: scheduling, curriculum development and coordination, testing, guidance, developing methods of instruction, classroom visitation, pupil grouping, participation in conferences and other meetings, role of counselor, consultant, organizer and resource person. At present this includes working with about 50 teachers and 1400 pupils throughout the union.

Specifics

I would like to report in some detail about a few specific phases of the program.

Pupil grouping as based on the results of the reading readiness tests seems to be paying big dividends. Where this was followed in last year's first grade the progress made in reading was quite accelerated and the second grade teachers this year have noticed a decided increase in reading achievement. It should be noted here that we have a common reading system in this union in which phonics has a definite role. Other subjects which are coordinated on a union-wide basis are language, social studies, and handwriting.

A recent survey of handwriting in grades four, five, six and twelve shows results that may be termed as higher than average. The handwriting system we use starts out as manuscript and by the fourth grade works into the cursive.

Evaluating the children's work and reporting to parents has always been a major problem. This past year a committee made up of parents and teachers developed a new elementary school report card which, with revisions suggested by parents and teachers during a trial run, has been adopted for the time being. Another such committee developed one for the junior-senior high schools. A poll of parents showed a total of 86% in favor of the new junior-senior high school card. Of the 1412 returns in the elementary school poll before revision 60% favored the new card. We agree that no perfect instrument of evaluating and reporting to parents has yet been devised. However, the method used to evolve the cards for Union #40 gave all who participated a better understanding of the problems faced by the pupil, teacher, and parent in their interpretation.

Availability

To be of greatest help your Helping Teacher must be available whenever and wherever needed, and may be directly contacted every morning before 9:30 at the Superintendent's office. After that the contact may be made through the office. Sometimes a problem requires immediate attention, but usually a teacher has a list of questions and needs which are taken care of after the regular classroom visit. One may correctly infer from this that the teacher who asks for the most help receives the most.

My effectiveness may be measured only by the amount of help I am able to give. In this case giving and receiving are integrated, as my efforts would be in vain without the help and cooperation received from the parents, teachers, principals, members of the school boards, and Mr. Bowley. I am very grateful.

Respectfully,

MABEL I. CONNOLLY
